Option 1: place mirror on the wall shown in the slide.

Option 2: is to make a slit of 3 inches as per the line shown and place crystal crush in that slit and add copper or silver strip in that slit. This will cut off the excessive area.

Option 3: This situation can be looked at from two aspects, a) Cut in the NE corner or extended SE corner. So to balance the extended SE corner, you can add water element or earth element to this zone. Water element can be a fish tank and for earth element can be a (Mango plant planted in a earthen pot)

Typical symptoms that can be seen in such kind of situations are.

- Excessive heated arguments in the house due to excessive fire elements.
- Blockage in growth.
- Incorrect decisions.
